India is developing nation and people of India which is about collective contribution is required to make India develop nation from the developing nation.

Here the term Inclusive Society is defined as included everyone which are part of the society without considering caste, religions, sex or gender or place of the birth as well as "Races". All need to be included and putting best efforts to bring ahead of the weaker sections of the society in order to bring a balance in the society.

Inclusive society

excluded the caste, religion, sex or gender, and racial discrimination

Equal rights of the all people

Special Treatment are given to those who are weaker in order to bring them ahead.

Here we have dreamt for the inclusive society for Dnyang or physically impaired that means we don't have to neglect or exclude them from our society, actually we have to support them for their growth and development in the exclusive manner.

Here the Spatial Treatment is required over here in order to uplift the special people . . .

The Supreme Court of India stated that " we can't treat equally to unequal people or person, just we have to make them equal then treat them equally "

The social inclusion is required for the upliftment of the physically impaired people because they need a social acceptances and also support from the society in order to do something better for the society.

The constitution of India, there is mentioned about equality of the status and opportunity and to promote among them all in and that is mentioned in the preamble of the constitution hence for the social inclusion we all have to support them and coordinated them for the growth and development of the physically impaired or ageing people.

for the development of the society we can't exclude anybody

, because I strongly believed that India won't be developed until each and every people won't be come ahead and develop so in order to societal development we all have to work together, and help to uplift to those who are actually unable to get upliftment.

In order to implement a (11) law and policy, there is required harmony between social, political and bureaucratic or executive harmony.

~~not~~ only the political and social harmony is not enough for the upliftment of the social and economic upliftment of the diryong (physically impaired), there is also required a judicial inclusion in which all laws are implemented and whenever the violations of the rights of the physically impaired people, judicial inclusion is required for the processing of justice and that all the people equal or make an egalitarian society.

Here, the scientific based development is required most here, the diryongs would be empow (11)-ered on the technologies or scientific based Inclusion

The Scientific Inclusion which would be alonged with health sector, which would be physically and mentally development of the people that should be healthy development of the suryong.

Health Inclusion would be eye check up, for blind people, physical check for the suryong and psychological treatment for physically impaired people

The Article-21 of the Constitution of India which provisioned about right to life and personal liberty which should be included right to health (medical aid to those who are actually depressed and physically ~~in~~unable)

The Health Inclusion which should be included psychological

Inclusion in which all people should be equally and special treatment for those who are physically and mentally impaired.

The social-economic development of the physical impaired is required for the social empowerment, here we have required special kinds of economic assistance to the physically & unable phy people

The national program for control of blindness & visual impairment (NPCBVI) in which the 'Darpan' NGO had been registered for the empowering of the blind people, and there are also so many schemes which are running by the central government likewise national policy for persons with disabilities, scheme of national scholarship for person with disabilities, and recently, scheme for national Award for the empowerment of persons with disabilities and so many, but here we required proper way for the implementation of these all governmental scheme which would be maximized the benefits of the physical Impaired peoples or vyangmangas.

There is also required cultural and educational inclusion for the empowering of the physically impaired people, like education would at knowled ge based and access a qualitative educati on to the vyang, for that purpose we have required cultural inclusion and educational inclusion because both are part of social inclusion.

The constitution of India Article - 21 of the fundamental right which is provisioned about Right to (15)

Education and Article - 45 of the directive principle of the State policy which need be provisioned about the right to Education.

The Article which was published in the Blog about the empowerment ~~prog~~ progress of the physically ~~or~~ disabled people which was strongly criticised and considered about the Act of the Rights of persons with disabilities Act, 2016, as half-hearted efforts at ensuring empowerment of the persons with disabilities, and also considered and criticised about the Act is nothing but only nothing more than a shoppily drafted litany of many empty promises

Conclusion

The way forward steps in order to make a nation on the basis of egalitarian society in which all people are equal and have a equal opportunities would be very helpful for the making of better India.

The governmental policies need to be properly implemented or not that's most required here and make people being ahead by proper implementation, and the NGOs like Samarthan Trust for the disabled, the Kahani project, Mitra Jyoti, National Association for the blind (Employment & Training) (NABET) and also "Access for All", there are many NGOs and public organisations are working for the Empowerment of the people which are disabled

But there are also required people's special attention in order to make a better society and balanced the society, that would only be possible if special treatment is implemented on the weaker section of the society.

The self help groups are responsible for the uplift of physically impaired or disabled people, that is also required for the economic development of the physically disabled people.

The way forward steps are also mass media, electronic media and other should be supported the physically impaired people and also create a Awareness Programm for the Social and Economic Enabled or Empowerment.
